Welcome to the Webinar!

The English Language Proficiency (ELP) Standards for Adult Education

Hmm? What’s this now??

We will begin at 3pm EST.
Your hosts

Patsy Egan, PhD
ATLAS Director,
Hamline University, St. Paul MN

Astrid Liden, ABE PD Specialist,
MN Dept of Education, St. Paul MN
ATLAS

ATLAS is funded by the MN Dept of Education to provide professional development to the MN ABE workforce.

- Conferences & Workshops
- Study Circles (ESL, EBRI)
- Online resource libraries
- Cohorts for job-embedded learning
- PD Calendar & weekly newsletter

Survey: What is your comfort level/expertise with the ELPS document?

A. This is really my first exposure to it.
B. I have a copy, and I have read parts or all of it.
C. I have studied it. I have specific questions about implementation for you!
D. I am already implementing it.

Chat your response in the chat box!
Objectives

- Navigate the new ELP Standards report
- Become familiar with the 10 ELP anchor standards
- Connect the ELPs to CCRS implementation
- Begin to consider how the ELPs may enhance your instruction to English language learners
AGENDA

- Setting the Stage: Where are we as a field?
- FAQs: Answering a few questions upfront
- WHY: Overview of the Rationale and Background: Equity and Acceleration of U.S. Workforce Development
- WHAT: The Components of the ELPs Document
  - The 10 Guiding Principles
  - The 10 Standards & their Organization
  - 1-5 Level Descriptors
How is the field of adult ESL different now than 10-15 years ago? Than just 5 years ago?

What accounts for these changes, do you think?
Shift in Understanding of Language Proficiency & Content Learning

Previously Framed as a Sequential Relationship

ELP Content

ELP standards and instruction provided a foundation from which to approach content standards

Now Framed as a Parallel Relationship

Content ELP

ELP standards and instruction reflect the language expectations contained in content standards

Source: WestEd
Recent Instructional Shifts in ABE

- Integration of content areas (civics, workplace readiness, career training, academic subjects like science/social studies)
Recent Instructional Shifts in ABE

- Integration of transitions skills ("soft skills") at all levels
Recent Instructional Shifts in ABE

- Prioritizing content-rich informational texts
  (more non-fiction than fiction emphasized lately)
Recent Instructional Shifts in ABE

- Emphasis on academic language
  - Teach explicitly
  - Encourage production
  - Choose texts with rich academic language
Recent Instructional Shifts in ABE

- Focus on textual evidence
  - Require use of texts to support claims, conclusions, etc.
CCRS

College & Career Readiness Standards for Adult Education

- Drawn from Common Core
- Not written specifically for ESL, but for all adult basic learners
ELP Standards = Language “lift” to CCRS
FAQs:

• ELPS don’t replace CCRS; they are a language “lift” to help students reach and engage successfully in the CCRS.

• There is not a one-to-one alignment between the ELPS, CCRS and NRS levels.

• Newly aligned NRS levels are being developed

• Level descriptors for each ELP Standard are not aligned to ESL levels to acknowledge the fact that teachers need to apply one or a few levels within a standard to differentiate instruction in classes because students have different levels of skills within the same class.
Alignment, Correlation, and Correspondences (Oh my!)

• In general, Correspondences are comparisons between “nonequivalent artifacts” that help educators to understand the relationship between sets of standards; these comparisons do not result in full alignment (CCSSO, 2012, p. 92).

• Until we get--and after we have--specific alignments, our work will remain the same: find ways to enable our students to learn the language they need to succeed in college, career, and civic tasks.

• Let’s keep our eyes on the ball.
  It’s about facilitating our students’ learning and scaffolding instruction.
OK, let’s take a look!
Overview: The “What” Components of the ELPs

- 10 Guiding Principles used to ground decision-making (p. 8)
- 10 Standards (p. 15)
- 1-5 Level Descriptors for student performance of each standard to help differentiate and scaffold instruction (p.17)
Overview: Components of the ELPs

• 2 “Views” or format styles of the Standards to show correspondences to math, science, engineering and CCRS (pp. 18 (View 1), 33 (View 2), 75 (Correspondence charts))

• Supports and scaffolding recommendations by level (Appendix C, very last page)

• Vignettes of classroom implementation, "What it Looks Like in Practice" (pp. 31, 32, 73, 78)
What are the Guiding Principles?

1. Adult ELLs have the potential to meet state-adopted challenging academic standards.
2. Adult ELLs represent a diverse population of learners.
3. Adult ELLs’ funds of knowledge are a resource for their learning.
4. Social language has an important role in ELLs’ English language acquisition process.
5. Three key instructional advances form the basis of state-adopted content standards for English language arts in AE that ELLs must access.
6. Adult ELLs must be able to successfully engage with a wide variety of informational texts.
7. Scaffolding is an essential tool to facilitate ELLs’ acquisition of language and content.
8. ELLs with disabilities have specific instructional needs.
9. Multimedia technology aligned to the ELP Standards for AE should be integrated into instruction.
10. Academic language instruction should be incorporated into all content lessons, including mathematics and science.
What are the Standards exactly?

1. Construct meaning from oral presentations and literary and informational text through level-appropriate listening, reading, and viewing.

2. Participate in level-appropriate oral and written exchanges of information, ideas, and analyses, in various social and academic contexts, responding to peer, audience, or reader comments and questions.

3. Speak and write about level-appropriate complex literary and informational texts and topics.

4. Construct level-appropriate oral and written claims and support them with reasoning and evidence.

5. Conduct research and evaluate and communicate findings to answer questions or solve problems.
What are the Standards exactly?

6. Analyze and critique the arguments of others orally and in writing.

7. Adapt language choices to purpose, task, and audience when speaking and writing.

8. Determine the meaning of words and phrases in oral presentations and literary and informational text.

9. Create clear and coherent level-appropriate speech and text.

10. Demonstrate command of the conventions of standard English to communicate in level-appropriate speech and writing.
Getting to know you... Sorting tasks!

1. Sort the 10 standards into three groups, those that emphasize:
   a. productive language
   b. receptive language ("interpretive")
   c. interactive language

Which # anchor standards emphasize language production, do you think?
See page 15 of the report for the authors’ ‘take’ on these categories

Comments?

(Accuracy of sorting is not the point, of course, but getting to know these anchors and how this report is organized!)

Another way to think about the standards... See page 15.

1-7: language necessary for ELLs to engage in the central content-specific practices associated with ELA & Literacy, mathematics, and science

8-10: micro-level linguistic features (those necessary to perform other tasks)

1-7: Accessing CONTENT
#8-10 SUPPORT #1-7. They are more accuracy focused.
1-5 Level Descriptors (p. 17):

- 5 levels are included with each of the 10 standards.
- They describe a range of student proficiency in English for each standard.
- They inform instruction by providing a granular description of learner knowledge and skills at each level.
- They direct teachers to differentiate and scaffold instruction.
Two views - View ONE

View One is helpful for planning language lessons that foster adult ELLs’ acquisition of discipline-specific language and skills needed to access CCRS

- Identifies the language demands associated with mathematics, science and English language arts and literacy practices

- Highlights the relationship between the ELP standards and the language demands found in the CCRS

View One may be most useful when the main focus of instruction is English language acquisition connected to academic subject matter.

Correspondences to Science and Engineering Practices

when engaging in one or more of the following content-specific practices:

MP1. Make sense of problems and persevere in solving them.

SPI. Ask questions and define problems.

when engaging in tasks corresponding with the following CCR English Language Arts and Literacy Standards for AE:

Reading

CCR Anchor 1: Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.

CCR Anchor 2: Determine central ideas or themes of a text and analyze their development; summarize the key supporting details and ideas.

CCR Anchor 3: Analyze how and why individuals, events, and ideas develop and interact over the course of a text.

CCR Anchor 7: Integrate and evaluate content presented in diverse media and formats, including visually and quantitatively, as well as in words.

Speaking and Listening

CCR Anchor 2: Integrate and evaluate information presented in diverse media and formats, including visually, quantitatively, and orally.

View TWO

View Two is useful when instruction is framed around the CCR Standards for AE in a class with adult ELLs who are in need of language skills development.

View Two presents the CCR Standards for English Language Arts and Literacy first, indicating that those standards will be consulted first as the basis for instruction.
CCR English Language Arts and Literacy Anchor Standard for AE

CCR Reading Anchor 1: Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text.

CCR English Language Arts and Literacy Standard for AE Level E

CCR Reading 1 Level E
- Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
- Application: cite specific textual evidence to support analysis of primary and secondary sources, attending to such features as the date and origin of the information.
- Application: cite specific textual evidence to support analysis of science and technical texts, attending to the precise details of explanations or descriptions.

“So the language of these standards sound a lot like CCRS. What’s different? How’s it helpful, if most of it is in CCRS anyway?”
Let’s take a look at just one element of CCRS -- CLOSE READING

(Close reading is mostly defined in Reading Anchor 1)

Close reading is thoughtful, critical analysis of a text that focuses on significant details or patterns in order to develop a deep, precise understanding of the text's form, craft, meanings, etc.

Close reading is a key requirement of the CCRS for Adult Education and directs the reader's attention to the text itself.
Let’s take a look at just one element of CCRS -- CLOSE READING

CCRS Reading Anchor 1:
Read closely to determine what the text says explicitly and to make logical inferences from it [RECEPTIVE]; cite specific textual evidence when writing or speaking to support conclusions drawn from the text [PRODUCTIVE].

Level A: (gr K-1)
Ask and answer questions about key details in a text.

Level B: (gr 2-3)
Ask and answer such questions as who, what, where, when, why, and how to demonstrate understanding of key details in a text.

Use a very limited set of strategies to identify a few key words and phrases in oral communications and simple spoken and written texts.

ELP Level 2:
Use an emerging set of strategies to
- identify the main topic in oral presentations and simple spoken and written texts
- retell a few key details

ELP Level 3:
Use a developing set of strategies to
- Determine a central idea or theme in oral presentations and spoken and written texts
- Retell key details
- Answer questions about key details
- Explain how the theme is developed by specific details in texts
- Summarize part of a text
